PERSONALITY STATEMENT SUMMARY

It is my responsibility to arm myself with structured programs such as TGP. Meanwhile, it has become part of the incremental improvements that may result in the desired outcome for the organization. Further, to improve my agility and foster close collaborations among public health professionals, government policymakers, and the scientific community, as well as to interact with individuals. A strong desire to learn, a sense of adventure, and a sense of coherence motivate me to enroll in this program in order to improve my ability to deal with unprecedented events in the future. Thus, I would expect the process will involve developing resilience and self-esteem where it is critical, and the program may empower me to carry out my daily routine. Enrolling in this program could prepare me to spearhead and propel the direction of oral health care services in Sabah. Accessibility of Children with Special Health Care Need to Oral Health care services in Borneo is the research I would like to conduct upon enrolling in this program. This underprivileged population was facing inequality in various public services including oral health care services. Thus, this study aims to explore the accessibility of Children with Special Health Care Needs to Oral Health care services in Borneo.
